

Video Tips Easy Examples

Control Noise

1

Be aware of the noise level in your child's surroundings, notice when he responds more easily, and choose places where you can hear each other clearly.

2

Position your baby where sound seems comfortable, reduce background noise in your toddler's play, or move to a quieter setting to talk to a preschooler.

3

As you control noise you build children's interest in sound and speech, improve their listening experiences and increase their communication opportunities.

The leading diagnostic and educational center for young children with hearing loss

806 West Adams Boulevard, Los Angeles, California 90007
Tel: (213) 748-5481 | Fax: (213) 749-1651
Email: pals@jtc.org | Website: www.jtc.org

For more family-friendly materials about childhood hearing loss, listening/language/speech and education visit <http://www.jtc.org/ideas-advice/video-tips/>