JOHN TRACY CLINIC'S INTERNATIONAL SESSIONS

Parent Toddler Discovery Program

One Week Session in Both English and Spanish in Los Angeles, California USA

John Tracy Clinic's Parent Toddler Discovery Program is designed for parent(s) and toddlers ages 18-35 months with hearing loss using hearing aids or implants whose families aim to support early spoken language development. This onsite program of intensive adult education and parent-child activities is offered at a reduced weekly price. Space is limited. Please contact pals@jtc.org about eligibility and the application process. Families worldwide credit JTC for guiding them to gain skills and confidence to promote their children's achievements

Attend This Summer

- Auditory-verbal program for toddlers (ages 18-35 months) with hearing loss and their parents from across the globe (including the U.S.)
- Creative play-based small group activities designed for parent-child interactions, toddler discovery and family communication
- Formal presentations and parent coaching on strategies for listening, language and speech
- Mornings for parents with children, afternoon sessions for parent classes and discussion groups
- Application required with audiology report from past six months
- University apartments within walking distance available at low cost
- Simultaneous sessions conducted in both English and Spanish

For Parents*

- Parents are ready to discover how to be their toddler's conversational partners, encourage language development and prepare their child for inclusive preschool settings.
- One parent and one other adult must come with each toddler. One or both adults participate with the toddler in the morning. One parent attends afternoon education classes and discussion groups. The other adult cares for the toddler in the afternoon.

For Children*

Toddlers with hearing loss are ready to discover the joys of meaningful conversation, excitement for listening opportunities and experience with purposeful speech.

* The daily schedule is designed to be developmentally appropriate for children ages 18-35 months. The toddlers attend in the mornings with parents and then nap in the afternoons at their own local housing.
